We face the final rush days with complete assortments of holiday merchandise—the giveables of service and sense. It's no part of our store policy to permit stocks to run down for want of ample provision. Tomorrow the reserves will be brought forward to fill the great inroads of the past few weeks' great selling. There'll be plenty of everything for everybody—and ample force of salespeople to serve everyone promptly.

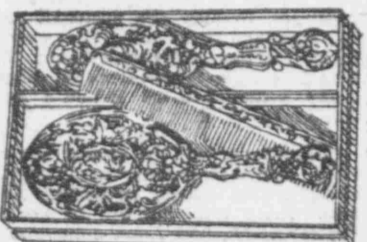

Regular stocks are reinforced with special values that mean extraordinary selling—and will turn the full tide of holiday buying to the doors of "The Dependable Store."

The best time to shop next week will be from 8 to 11 a. m., 2 to 4 and 8 to 10 p. m. The crowds are not so great between these hours—and we can serve you better than during the rush hours.
